Mr K Leech is the data protection officer. His role is to oversee and monitor the school's data protection procedures and to ensure they are compliant with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). He can be contacted on 01582 725387 or via dpo@bushmeadprimaryschool.co.uk.

Who we share pupil information with

The school is required to share pupils' data with the Department for Education on a statutory basis.

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the Department. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

Bushmead Primary School is required by law to provide information about our pupils to the Department for Education as part of statutory data collections, such as the school census and early years census. Some of this information is then stored on the National Pupil Database. The law that allows this is the Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

The Department for Education may share information about our pupils from the National Pupils Database with third parties who promote the education or wellbeing of children in England by:

- conducting research or analysis
- producing statistics
- providing information, advice or guidance

The Department for Education has robust processes in place to ensure confidentiality of any data shared from the National Pupil Database is maintained.

To find out more about the NPD, go to

<https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/national-pupil-database>

Decisions on whether Department for Education releases data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- who is requesting the data
- the purpose for which it is required
- the level and sensitivity of data requested: and

- the arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to pupil information, organisations must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.
